August 22, 2002

Dear Awarding Body/Interested Party:

Due to the State of California's budget situation you will no longer receive paper copies of the Director's General Prevailing Wage Determinations starting with the August 2003 issuance.

To save on the cost of paper, reproduction, and postage, you will be receiving the general prevailing wage determinations in CD-Rom format. However, paper copies of the entire set of general prevailing wage determinations will still be available for a fee. In addition to the CD-Rom, these determinations are available on the Internet at <http://www.dir.ca.gov/DLSR/PWD>.

The CD-Rom will contain the current prevailing wage determinations, apprentice schedules, predetermined increases, and if available, the provisions for holidays, scope of work, travel and subsistence, and shift rates for each craft and classification. The content and functionality of the CD-Rom are the same as found on the DLSR web site. One benefit of the CD-Rom over the web site is that you will no longer experience delays in downloading larger files. However, you should log on to the Internet to occasionally review the Important Notices that include interims, modifications, or corrections that may apply to your determination.

The CD-Rom will require Windows 95/98/2000 or MacIntosh, Microsoft Internet Explorer 4.0+, Microsoft Excel 97+, and Adobe Acrobat Reader. You will be able to install the current versions of the Internet Explorer, the Excel Viewer, and the Adobe Acrobat Reader to your computer from the CD-Rom.

Sincerely,

Chuck Cake
Acting Director
